

Deliver Fast ROI with JDA Express for Enterprise Planning

Level up your merchandise planning process

It's a myth that only large firms can benefit from world-class merchandise planning solutions. With JDA® Enterprise Planning™, you get a market-leading JDA solution that fits your company, deployed in just weeks for rapid ROI – and pre-configured based on our deep knowledge of retail best practices, so your company can start maximizing profits, fast.

Excel-based retail planning approaches mean your planners spend too much time accumulating data (which they may not even be able to analyze) and can't spend enough time on strategic activities. The result? Without right-sized inventory, your gross margins decline. Disjointed sources of information mean you can't attain a single source of truth about merchandising activities. Your planning cycles are longer than they have to be, keeping you from responding to market trends or conditions. And, if you're relying on Excel or old on-premise systems, your IT staff may be spending more time and resources than necessary on software that can't provide a competitive edge.

Express: Fast, focused implementation

JDA Express is a pre-configured implementation approach with supporting documentation and training. It allows for a fast and effective way to get a quick ROI. Customers can go live with our JDA Express for Enterprise Planning in as little as 9 weeks, far less than the time associated with highly-configured implementations – and rapidly leverage powerful JDA functionality. Over time, you can extend the business process as your business evolves. Here and now, JDA Express gets you up and running faster than ever, creating a solid foundation for strategic business growth.

SaaS: Greater agility in the cloud
